21. Questions

Read the passage carefully and answer the questions that follow. Some questions ask you to identify the word that best fits the blank, while others test your understanding of the passage through inference, vocabulary, contextual usage, and the author's viewpoint.

For many people, pets are far more than companions; they are cherished members of the family. Whether it is a playful dog, a curious cat, or a rescued bird, animals often provide emotional comfort and unconditional affection. Studies suggest that spending time with pets can reduce stress, lower blood pressure, and improve overall mental well-being. Many therapists even encourage animal-assisted activities to help individuals (21) _____ with anxiety, loneliness, and emotional trauma.

However, owning a pet is not merely about enjoying companionship. It also involves significant responsibilities, including providing nutritious food, regular veterinary care, exercise, and a safe environment. Responsible pet owners understand that animals depend entirely on human care for their health and happiness. Neglecting these responsibilities may lead not only to poor animal welfare but also to behavioural problems.

In recent years, animal shelters and rescue organizations have encouraged people to adopt homeless pets instead of purchasing them from commercial breeders. Adoption not only gives abandoned animals a second chance but also helps reduce overcrowding in shelters. Although caring for a rescued pet may sometimes require extra patience, the bond that gradually develops is often deeply rewarding.

Experts also emphasize the importance of early training and regular socialization for pets. Animals that receive proper guidance from an early age tend to adapt more easily to different environments and interact better with both people and other animals. Such practices not only improve a pet's behaviour but also strengthen the trust and understanding shared between pets and their owners. Ultimately, genuine love for pets is reflected not only through affection but also through consistent care, compassion, and lifelong commitment.

8. Questions

Answer: C

The reporting verb “announced” is in the past tense. In standard reported speech, the future auxiliary “will” is commonly backshifted to “would.” In addition, after “would,” the main verb must be in its base form. Therefore, “would begin” is the appropriate replacement for the incorrect “will begins.”

Correct sentence:

The organisers announced that the mass protest would begin at 10 a.m. after all permissions were granted.

9. Questions

Answer: C

The verb phrase “provide financial assistance” requires the preposition “to” before the recipient. Therefore, the missing preposition must be inserted before “small entrepreneurs.”

Correct sentence:

The new government initiative aims to provide financial assistance to small entrepreneurs in rural areas.

10. Questions*Answer: D

The expression “over the past few years” requires the definite article “the” before past. Therefore, “over past few years” must be changed to “over the past few years.”

Correct sentence:

The country's economic growth has remained steady despite the global slowdown over the past few years.

“Many therapists even encourage animal-assisted activities to help individuals (21) _____ with anxiety, loneliness, and emotional trauma.”

The correct collocation is “cope with”, meaning to manage or deal with a difficult situation or emotion.

- A). cope — cope with anxiety → grammatically and contextually correct
- B). ignore — ignore with is incorrect
- C). suffer — suffer with is possible in some contexts, but “help individuals suffer with anxiety” is logically inappropriate
- D). hesitate — hesitate with anxiety is not appropriate
- E). oppose — oppose with anxiety is incorrect

22. Questions

Answer: B

The passage discusses

- emotional benefits of pets,
- responsibilities of pet owners,
- pet adoption,
- training and socialization,
- lifelong commitment.

@RankZenBanker

Therefore, the main idea is that pet ownership combines affection with responsibility.

Option Analysis

- A). Incorrect. The passage actually encourages adoption from shelters rather than commercial breeding.
- B). Correct. It accurately summarizes every paragraph. ✓
- C). Incorrect. Free veterinary treatment is never discussed.
- D). Incorrect. The passage mentions animal-assisted therapy but never says only trained animals improve mental health.
- E). Incorrect. Social status is never discussed.

23. Questions

Answer: C

The fourth paragraph clearly states that

Animals receiving proper guidance from an early age adapt more easily to different environments.

Hence Option C is directly supported.

Option Analysis

- A). Incorrect. The passage says shelters encourage adoption.
- B). Incorrect. The passage stresses the importance of veterinary care.
- C). Correct. This idea appears explicitly in Paragraph 4. ✓
- D). Incorrect. The author states that affection alone is insufficient.
- E). Incorrect. Adoption—not commercial breeding—helps reduce overcrowding.

24. Questions

Answer: B

The sentence says: Pets are cherished members of the family.

Here cherished means

- deeply loved
- highly valued
- greatly appreciated.

Among the options, valued is the closest synonym.

Option Analysis

- A). Ignored - Means neglected or not cared for. Opposite meaning.
- B). Valued - Means appreciated or highly respected. Perfect synonym. ✓
- C). Rejected - Means refused or not accepted. Opposite meaning.
- D). Temporary - Means lasting only a short time. Unrelated.
- E). Ordinary - Means common or not special. Does not convey affection.

25. Questions

Answer: E

Neglecting means failing to give proper care, attention, or consideration to someone or something.

- A). Overlooking — means failing to notice or consider; similar to neglecting.
- B). Disregarding — means ignoring or treating something as unimportant; similar to neglecting.
- C). Ignoring — means deliberately paying no attention; similar to neglecting.
- D). Abandoning — means leaving someone or something without care or support; related in meaning to neglecting.
- E). Attending — means giving care, attention, or consideration; therefore, it is the opposite of neglecting.

26. Questions

Answer: B

The passage states that pets receiving proper guidance from an early age adapt more easily to different environments and interact better with people and other animals. Therefore, Option B is directly supported by the passage.

- A). Competitions are not mentioned.
- B). Correct — directly supported by the passage.
- C). Veterinary costs are not linked to training or socialization.
- D). The passage emphasizes that pets depend on humans for care.
- E). Commercial value is not discussed.

27. Questions

Answer: A

- A). Correct inference — based on the statement that rescued pets may require extra patience and the resulting bond can be deeply rewarding.
- B). Plausible, but the passage does not say rescued pets often have behavioural difficulties or require specialized care.
- C). Sounds plausible, but the passage specifically mentions reducing overcrowding, not general shelter management.
- D). Contradicted by the passage, which emphasizes that animals depend on humans for care.
- E). Incorrect — responsible ownership involves much more than emotional companionship.

28. Questions

Answer: C

The author presents factual information about the emotional benefits of pets, responsible ownership, adoption, and training while encouraging readers to care for animals compassionately. The language is positive, balanced, and educational.

Option Analysis:

- A). Sarcastic – Incorrect. There is no irony or mocking language in the passage.
- B). Critical – Incorrect. The author does not criticize pet owners or organizations; instead, the passage promotes responsible behaviour.
- C). Informative and encouraging – Correct. The passage provides information while motivating readers to adopt and care for pets responsibly. ✓
- D). Humorous – Incorrect. The passage is factual and serious rather than amusing.
- E). Pessimistic – Incorrect. The overall tone is optimistic and emphasizes positive outcomes of responsible pet ownership.

29. Questions

Answer: C

Weave means to interlace threads to make fabric or to combine ideas or elements skilfully. Sentence I uses the literal meaning, while Sentence II uses the figurative meaning correctly. Sentence III is incorrect because companies increase or boost profits; they do not weave profits.

30. Questions

Answer: B

Toxic means poisonous or extremely harmful, either physically or emotionally. Sentences I and III correctly describe harmful chemicals and substances. Sentence II is incorrect because encouraging teamwork creates a positive environment, which is the opposite of a toxic relationship.

31. Questions

Answer: A

I). Correct — Launch means to officially introduce or start a new initiative, programme, scheme, etc.

II). Incorrect — Launch cannot be used with budget deficit because a deficit is not something that can be launched. Suitable verbs include report, announce, project, or calculate.

III). Correct — Launch is correctly used to mean officially introduce a new online portal.

32. Questions

Answer: E

Carbonated refers to drinks containing dissolved carbon dioxide, which produces bubbles. Sentences II and III correctly describe soft drinks. Sentence I is incorrect because fresh coconut water is naturally non-carbonated and does not contain added carbon dioxide.
