21. Questions

In the following question, a passage has been given and followed by several questions. You are required to answer the questions based on the information provided in the passage.

After nearly three-and-a-half years and 13 rounds of meetings, member-states of the World Health Organization (WHO) have agreed on measures to prevent, prepare for and respond to pandemics. Finalized a proposal [A]/ Intergovernmental Negotiating Body [B]/ Pandemic Agreement [C]/ on April 16, the [D]/ for the WHO [E]. The draft, described as a “generational accord to make the world safer”, is now ready to be adopted next month by the World Health Assembly. Though more limited in scope than the ambitious one first proposed by WHO, it is still a remarkable achievement considering the varied priorities and compulsions for the Global North and the developing countries, especially with the U.S. not a part of WHO since January. While the developed countries balked on firm commitments to sharing diagnostics, treatments, vaccines and technology transfers, developing countries hesitated to commit to sharing pathogen samples and genome sequences without assured access to tests, treatments and vaccines developed using the shared material. The disagreements are reminiscent of how Indonesia turned the spotlight on the inequitable H5N1 sample sharing mechanism in the mid-2000s in the absence of equitable and affordable access to vaccines developed using its samples.

The first article that all countries agreed upon was the commitment to protect health-care workers better. The most remarkable achievement was in getting every country to agree on the pathogen access and benefit sharing system. Developing countries that share pathogen samples and genome sequence data are guaranteed to get access to any diagnostics, vaccines or treatments that are developed using the samples/data. Negotiations on how countries will share samples and vaccines/drugs are set to continue. Pharmaceutical companies have committed to donate 10% of their production to WHO and offer up to another 10% at affordable prices. The COVID-19 pandemic brought the inequitable vaccine distribution to the fore. Many developed countries stockpiled vaccines while many developing countries, especially those in Africa, were left waiting for vaccines. The case of vaccine manufacturers sharing the technology with developing countries during a pandemic has also been sorted out. The main debate centered around the conditions under which this transfer will happen. Countries have agreed that technology transfer will be on “mutually agreed terms”, and not “voluntary” as pharma companies wanted it to be. According to the journal, Nature, besides “promoting equitable access to health products, the treaty underlines that countries should ‘promote and otherwise facilitate or incentivise’ the exchange of technology and know-how” that will enable developing countries to make their own vaccines.

What was one of the first key commitments agreed upon by all countries in the WHO Pandemic Agreement?

- a. Protection of health-care workers

- b. Development of a universal vaccine for all pandemics
- c. Technology transfer to private pharmaceutical firms
- d. Limiting the role of WHO in future health emergencies
- e. None of the above

22. Questions

Which of the following best captures the main challenge in reaching the WHO Pandemic Agreement?

- a. Difficulty in identifying global pandemic hotspots
- b. Political instability in WHO member-states
- c. Divergent priorities between developed and developing countries
- d. Lack of scientific consensus on genome sequencing
- e. None of these

23. Questions

According to the passage, what was the concern of developing countries regarding sharing pathogen samples and genome sequences?

- a. They lacked the infrastructure to store samples
- b. They feared misuse by pharmaceutical companies
- c. They believed the samples had no scientific value
- d. They wanted guarantees of access to resulting medical products
- e. None of these

24. Questions

Why can the finalized WHO Pandemic Agreement be considered a “remarkable achievement”?

- a. Because it grants WHO power to impose sanctions on non-complying nations
- b. Because all nations agreed without any debates or disagreements
- c. Because it achieved consensus despite divergent interests and the U.S. not being part of WHO
- d. Because it ensures that pandemics will never happen again
- e. Both A and D

25. Questions

What inequity during the COVID-19 pandemic is highlighted as a key motivation for the new agreement?

- a. The overproduction of vaccines in Asian countries
- b. Unequal distribution of vaccines, especially affecting African nations
- c. Lack of virus containment in developed nations
- d. The destruction of unused vaccines in warehouses
- e. None of these

26. Questions

What is the significance of the clause that requires technology transfer on “mutually agreed terms”?

- a. It gives developing countries complete control over production
- b. It prevents any legal disputes between nations
- c. It removes the voluntary nature of technology sharing, ensuring fairer access
- d. It encourages private monopolies on vaccine production
- e. None of these

27. Questions

Based on the passage, what is the intended role of pharmaceutical companies under the new agreement?

- a. To exclusively distribute vaccines through private channels
- b. To manufacture only for developed countries
- c. To be exempt from technology-sharing obligations
- d. To donate a portion of vaccines and offer some at affordable prices
- e. Both C and D

e. No correction required

Explanations:

1. Questions

Answer: E

☐ All parts are correct.

2. Questions

Answer: D

☐ Part G: “More customer” is incorrect. It should be “more customers.” Use plural nouns after “more” when referring to countable nouns.

- Corrected sentences:

The company reduced product prices to attract more customers during the festive season.

3. Questions

Answer: A

☐ Part D: “Exceptional contentious issue” is wrong. It should be “exceptionally contentious issue.” “Exceptional” is an adjective, so the adverb “exceptionally” is needed.

☐ Part G: “Are increasing” is wrong because “the number of endangered species” takes a singular verb: “is increasing.”

- Corrected sentences:

The diplomat displayed remarkable tact while addressing an exceptionally contentious issue.

The number of endangered species is increasing steadily.

4. Questions

Answer: D

@RankZen Banker

☐ Part B: “Despite of” is incorrect. It should be “despite.” “Despite” is not followed by “of.”

☐ Part E: “Whom discovered” is incorrect. It should be “who discovered.” who is used for the subject, while whom is used for the object.

- Corrected sentences:

The cat remained unusually calm despite the noise coming from the crowded marketplace.

The scientist who discovered the rare orchid received international recognition.

5. Questions

Answer: E

☐ All parts are correct.

6. Questions

Answer: B

☐ Curtail means reduce or limit. The sentence implies reducing food waste. Using seasonal produce helps reduce waste, making curtail the best choice.

- Exacerbate: worsen.
- Replicate: copy.
- Precipitate: cause suddenly.
- Magnify: increase.

7. Questions

Answer: C

☐ Entrenched means firmly established and difficult to change. It suits inefficiencies that have become deeply rooted.

- Embedded: fixed within something.
- Concealed: hidden.
- Established: set up or recognized.

8. Questions

Answer: A

☐ Languish means remain in an unpleasant or stagnant state. Since reassessment prevents stagnation, languish is the most suitable answer.

- Flourish: thrive.
- Culminate: reach the highest point.
- Resonate: evoke a strong response.
- Diverge: move in different directions.

9. Questions

Answer: A

☐ Corroborate means confirm or support with evidence from independent sources. The sentence emphasizes verifying information.

- Fabricate: invent falsely.
- Obscure: make unclear.
- Distort: misrepresent.
- Manipulate: control unfairly or alter deceptively.

10. Questions

Answer: E

☐ “Foreseeable future” is a fixed and natural expression meaning the time period that can be reasonably expected or anticipated.

- Foreseeable: able to be predicted or anticipated.
- Unpredictable: not capable of being predicted.
- Tedious: long and boring.
- Unyielding: firm, rigid.

11. Questions

Answer: D

☐ Surge means a sudden, significant increase or rise.

- Options 1, 2, and 3 correctly describe a rapid increase.

12. Questions

Answer: D

☐ Detain means to keep someone from proceeding or to hold someone in custody.

- Option 1 correctly refers to legal detention.
- Option 2 correctly uses the broader meaning of delaying or holding back.
- Option 3 is incorrect because documents are stored or placed, not detained.

13. Questions

Answer: E

☐ Jeune means naive, simplistic, or lacking substance.

- Options 1 and 3 correctly reflect superficiality.
- Option 2 is incorrect because a groundbreaking theory would not ordinarily be described as jejune.

14. Questions

Answer: A

☐ Fragile means easily broken, damaged, or weakened.

- Options 1 and 2 correctly use the figurative meaning.
- Option 3 is incorrect because fragile determination would not logically enable effortless success; the idea is internally contradictory.

15. Questions

Answer: A

☐ Vague means unclear or lacking detail.

- Options 1, 2, and 3 correctly use the word.

16. Questions

Answer: B

☐ Restricting human interference led to better breeding success. The relationship is one of cause and effect.

B). Consequently – means as a result or therefore; correctly shows cause and effect.

@RankZen Banker

- Conversely: The opposite idea, not result.
- Likewise: Similarity, not result.
- Instead: Replacement, not result.

17. Questions

Answer: E

☐ “Several rivers witnessed improved water quality” and “conservation efforts continued in surrounding forests” happened at the same time. Meanwhile is used for two parallel actions occurring simultaneously.

- Although needs a dependent clause and shows contrast.
- Indeed adds emphasis, not time.
- Finally shows sequence, not simultaneity.
- Yet shows contrast, not parallel action.

18. Questions

Answer: D

☐ “Even so” appropriately conveys contrast- despite losses, the founders remained determined.

- Therefore: It suggests cause-effect, which is incorrect here.
- In contrast: Direct comparison, not the best fit here.
- Hence - also expresses a result.

19. Questions

Answer: B

☐ Despite missing practice, she performed exceptionally well. Nonetheless expresses this contrast.

- Hence: Result, not contrast.
- Thereafter: After that in time, not contrast.
- Likewise: Similarity, not contrast.

20. Questions

Answer: A

☐ As a result, correctly expresses the consequence of relying on mental shortcuts.

- Likewise: No similarity is expressed.
- Instead: The second statement is not an alternative.

21. Questions

Answer: A

☐ The passage clearly states that "The first article that all countries agreed upon was the commitment to protect health-care workers better."

- Option B: There is no mention of a universal vaccine development.
- Option C: Technology transfer is addressed later but not as the first agreement.
- Option D: The agreement actually supports a stronger WHO role, not limiting it.

22. Questions

@RankZen Banker

Answer: C

❑ The passage highlights that developed countries resisted firm commitments on sharing vaccines and technologies, while developing countries were reluctant to share pathogens without access guarantees. This reflects the core challenge in negotiations.

- Option A: The issue is not geographical identification.
- Option B: Political instability is not discussed.
- Option D: Scientific consensus is not a noted barrier—political/economic interests are.

23. Questions

Answer: D

❑ Developing countries hesitated to commit without assured access to the diagnostics, vaccines, and treatments developed from their shared data.

- Option A: Infrastructure issues are not mentioned.
- Option B is partially plausible but not the primary concern discussed.
- Option C: The value of the samples was acknowledged.

24. Questions

Answer: C

❑ The passage notes that the agreement, though limited, is remarkable considering the absence of the U.S. and differing priorities among member-states.

- Option A: No mention of WHO sanctions.
- Option B: There were multiple rounds and intense negotiations.
- Option D is factually incorrect and overstates the agreement's power.

25. Questions

Answer: B

❑ The passage clearly states that developed countries stockpiled vaccines while African countries were left waiting.

- Option A is not mentioned.
- Option C is not a focus of the agreement.
- Option D is not referenced in the passage.

26. Questions

Answer: C

❑ The passage says countries agreed technology transfer would be on “mutually agreed terms”, not “voluntary” as pharma companies preferred, giving developing countries more negotiating power.

- Option A: Control is not completely transferred.
- Option B: Legal disputes may still arise.
- Option D: The clause is meant to reduce monopolies.

27. Questions

Answer: D

@RankZen Banker

❑ Pharmaceutical companies have agreed to donate 10% of production and offer up to another 10% at affordable prices.

- Option A: The agreement focuses on equitable access, not exclusivity.
- Option B is factually incorrect based on the equity focus.
- Option C: Technology-sharing is a negotiated clause.

28. Questions

Answer: D

❑ The correct arrangement is DBAEC.

- Corrected sentence:

On April 16, the Intergovernmental Negotiating Body finalized a proposal for the WHO Pandemic Agreement.

29. Questions

Answer: A

❑ Here, “balked” means refused, hesitated, or held back from committing. Thus, Option A is the correct answer.

- Hurled: threw forcefully
- Reckoned: calculated

30. Questions

Answer: E

❑ The G7 is a grouping of the most advanced western economies and is a politico-economic club.

31. Questions

Answer: D

❑ The phrase “the presence water” is incorrect because the noun presence must be followed by the preposition of.

- Corrected sentence:

The key difference between the Silkyara episode and the one in Srisailam is the presence of water.

32. Questions

Answer: B

❑ Use “a unique” rather than “an unique” because “unique” starts with the consonant sound.

- Corrected sentence:

Every language reflects a unique way of interpreting the world, shaped by centuries of cultural experience.

@RankZen Banker
